steresting Reports From the Fastor, Rev. W. L. S. Murray, D. D., the Board of Trustees and Other Official Members of the Church.

The first quarterly lovefeast and quar-rly conference were held in Washing-m Heights M. E. Church last night, with reading Elder A. S. Mowbray in the nair. After a fine address by the pre-ding elder the partaking of the emblema f fraternal love, the quarterly conference as organized and heard the following eports: PASTOR'S REPORT.

Paston's upport. First Quarterly Report, Washington Heights, June 6th, 1906—In submitting this, my first quarterly report. I am privi-leged abave many, for it does not often fall to the lot of a pastor in our older communities, to report an entirely new work. We have here a new community, a new church building, a new member-

Staff Correspondence of Every Evening. Dover, June 7.—The afternoon ses-sion of the anti-railroad meeting, which was held here yesterday, was devoted chiefly to a consideration of the tem-perance question. It was decided to call upon the Legislature, at the extra session, to make good the local option bill passed at the regular session, and in the event of failure on the part of the Legislature to do so to put an inde-pendent ticket in the field this year and ask for the support of all voters who are in favor of local option. After the matter had been discussed at length and the Legislature denounces at length and the Legislature denounces to rist silure to carry out pledges alleged to have been made by some of the Re-publican members before the cleation, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted: Whereas, We are in convention as-subled it econsider and convention as-the insertion of a local option plank in the platform adopted by their State con-vention; and. Whereas, The members of the Legisla-ture thus elected, frankly acknowledged heir obligations to the temperance entiment of the State, and apparently proceeded in a most formal and deliberate nanner to redeem their pledges and romises by preparing and passing a so-alled local option bill, which however, lied before it was born, and, while every flort was made to galvanize it into a cerning reality, remsined destitute of I the essential qualities and ingredients f legal vitarity that "thinketh no evil," favorable to the honesty and sincerity (these legislators who thus placed them-sives under pledge and promise to the emperance people of the State, and who a the subsequent regular session of the egislature publicly displayed what was apposed to be a genuine attachment to nd support of the principles of local ption; and. Whereas, It would be unjust to at-divute the mission of the state.

publican members before the election, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted: Whereas, We are in convention as-sembled to consider and confront the criminal of the twentieth century—a monster of fabulous powers—a demon possessed of neither intelligence nor conscience, but animated by an infinite matinet for death and destruction—a monster and demon petted, pampered and protected by the paid guardians of its unhappy victims; and Whereas, The people constitute the State and in their collection capacity are the government, and thereby possess in-herently and inalienably the right of self-protection, this right being specifically conceded and provided for in our Dela-ware Constitution, in connection with the evils and infamies of the liquor traffic outer the tile of "local option," thus giving the people within legal lines the constitutional right to vote on the ques-tion of "license" or "no license"; and Whereas, A majority of the members of our present Legislature were elected by voters pledged to vote for no one who was not favorable to local option, and who themselves, in advance of their clection, pledged their support for such a measure; and Whereas, The representatives of the both branches of the Legislature, were additionally and thoroughly pledged to support an enactment of such a law, by the insertion of a local option plank in the platform adopted by their State con-venton; and.

and support of the principles of local option; and, Whereas, It would he unjust to at-tribute the wide-open unconstitu-tionality of the so-called local option bill, to the betrayal of the people by these pledged legislators, under the similar influence of corrupt party bosses, or of the powerful lobby in the paid service of the liquor interests, without giving the said legislators an opportunity to prove their sincerity and honesty; therefore be it Resolved, That this convention calls upon the executive committee of the Delaware State Temperance Alliance to present this utterance, in the most effective manner available, to the mem-bers of both branches of the Legislature now sitting in extra session and demand that they immediately make good their pre-election promises and their subse-ment of present of the distorted the subseutrage and calculated betrayal at the ands of a band of conscienceless political ntriguers lost to the last hope of the de-raved—a sense of ahame, and who de-erve the indignant scorn, the unleavence and undying contempt of their species. Resolved, That it is the further sense of this convention that in the event of such a recreant and cowardly course on the part of the Legislature, it will be the solerm duty of the Delaware State Tem-perance Alfiance, together with Prohibi-tion and independent voters, and all. Christian and moral voters, who hold truth, duty and righteouances above party, to unite in forming and support-ing an independent citizen's ticket in the approaching State lection.
